Major Martin And Companion Safe, Start Home Tomorrow

Plane Crashed into Mountain and Was Destroyed

WALK TO SAFETY

Many Hardships From Cold in Northern Alaska Are Endured in 7 Days
Tramp

By Associated Press.
FALSPASS, Alaska, May 12.—Major Frederick L. Martin, world flight commander, whose plane smashed against a mountain on the Alaska peninsula April 30, intends to leave with his mechanic, Sergeant Alva Harvey, to-morrow for United States. The pair had been missing eleven days. They are uninjured. After the crash they tramped to Port Muller where news of their safety was flashed to the world last night.

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, May 12.—It was announced today that plans were being made to send Major Martin and Sergeant Harvey across the Atlantic in time to greet the world fliers and lead them on their way home from Europe. In that way Commander Martin will be given most of the honors which he lost by hard luck in Alaska.

By Associated Press.
CARDOVA, Alaska, May 12.—Miraculously escaping death after crashing against a mountain peak in a fog and completely wrecking the former flag plane Seattle, one of four United States army globe encircling air cruises, Major Frederick L. Martin and his mechanic, Staff Sergeant Alva L. Harvey, were safe last night at Port Muller, 100 miles west of Chignik, Alaska, on the Alaska Peninsula, according to a wireless message received here from that point via St. Paul Island.

The two American aviators, who emerged unscathed from the splintered parts of the plane on the mountainside, were forced down one hour and half after leaving Chignik for Dutch Harbor, Unalaska Island, shortly before noon April 30, to rejoin their companions. They rescued a few of their records and food rations from the debris and started on a long tramp down the mountain side toward the north pacific ocean shore line.

After many hardships they finally reached a trapper's cabin, situated on the southern tip of Port Muller Bay, last Wednesday, and they obtained food and a warm place to sleep. They were utterly exhausted after a seven day tramp under severe weather conditions and they rested two days in the cabin. Saturday the fliers, feeling refreshed in mind and body, walked to the beach and were able to flash the first message of their safety to the world yesterday after being reported missing ten days.

McAdoo for the Democratic nomination for President.

Returns from these ninety-six counties showed that 1,146 of the 2,282 delegates chosen were instructed for McAdoo.

Senator Oscar W. Underwood received instructions of 122 delegates.

Two delegates were instructed for former Gov. James M. Cox of Ohio.

LEXINGTON, May 12.—With the arrival to-night of Robert T. Crowe, state campaign manager, Selden R. Gledo and other McAdoo leaders temporarily at the campaign headquarters, the McAdoo forces will be officially opened for supporters. ## NAME BOARD TO ADJUST TAX ASSESSMENTS

Three Live in Separate
Wards—Shaeffer
Chairman

R E A D O R D I N A N C E

Brother and Sister Made
City Physicians at
Salary of $75
Month

Board of supervisors for the city tax assessments was appointed at the city commissioners' meeting this morning. E. G. Shaeffer was named chairman of the board while Jess Stanley and F. R. Whalin will be the other two members.

The commissioners stated that each of these men live in separate wards and they have a thorough knowledge of local property values. They will begin their work after the city tax lists for this year have been compiled by the assessor.

Dr. C. K. Brosheer and Dr. U. G. Brummett were made city physicians of Middlesboro with a salary of $75 per month. For this sum paid monthly they will administer to all indigent patients in medical and surgical work and all city prisoners.

The matter of considering changes in the police force was mentioned but it was decided to defer the matter for two weeks, a time when the two commissioners and Mayor Keeney who is no wout of town may be present at the meeting.

Commissioner C. E. Cooke reported that the bridge on North Tenth street is in bad condition, that a mule fell through it Saturday. It was decided that lumber should be ordered for the repair of it and that the work of repairing the structure be done by J. D. Hadlitz with the city prisoners.

Residents of Noetown petitioned the city officials for police protection in that part of town, suggesting that a man of the neighborhood be given the job without compensation. The matter will be more fully considered after recommendations of a man for the place have been made.

Ordinance including a number of streets scheduled for improvement in the ten year payment plan was approved on its second reading. Sections of the following streets are included in the ordinance: North Twenty-fourth, North Twenty-fifth, Gloucester, Manchester and Lynwood and Englewood roads.

MANY TOURISTS EXPECTED HERE DURING SUMMER

Development of Potentials of Section
Urged

R O A D S L E A D H E R E

J. R. Williams Says
C o n s i d e r a b l e T o u r i s t
Awakening to Possibilities in Tourists

The importance of developing South-eastern Kentucky as a tourist field by the building of good roads through here is being more and more generally discussed in this section. The beautiful scenery through here, the rare fields for fishing and outings and the cool summers of the mountains offer possibilities which the far-sighted people of the section realize may be developed beyond anything they have dreamed of before.

Senator White L. Moss, speaking on the subject last Thursday before the Kiwanis Club, said that the tourist business here in the next ten years would out-trip the coal business and that towns of this section would develop more in the next ten years than they had in the last twenty years.

J. R. Williams, editor of the Appalachian Trade Journal and one of the best posted men in the country in regard to conditions in this section, writes from Cincinnati, several days before Senator Moss' speech, the following in a letter to F. D. Hart, Jr., publisher of the Daily News:

Tourists Coming This Summer
"In my opinion you are going to see great numbers of tourists from here this summer, and you know I will do all in my power to get them started down your way, and while the Florida traffic has been stressed in connection with the opening of the Dixie Highway, the best posted tourist booster here, who has been all over the country says that he believes there will be five hundred times as many people come as far south as Middlesboro, Knoxville and Asheville in spring, summer and fall as will go to Florida, and while he overstates it I believe he is right in that this local tourist traffic will far exceed that of the Florida traffic which itself will be enormous. Both of these classes of traffic are going to bring millions of dollars into Middlesboro, and will do more for Middlesboro than all the names running full time all the time. As above stated, you can count on us to do anything to boost Middlesboro."

Very truly,
J. R. WILLIAMS.

Georgia Wants Roads
That other places are beginning to realize more and more the value of good roads in developing the South's picturesque sites into tourist resorts, is shown in a recent address there.

Judge N. L. L. Hutchins, of Lawrenceville, Ga., widely known in the south for his untiring efforts in support of the "Good Roads" movement, in a forceful address to the Kiwanis club of Lawrenceville, pointed with a deep understanding of his subject, to the rapid advancement of North Carolina, featuring the wonderful growth of this state in encouraging new blood from New England states—outlining that her tourists number thousands upon thousands—that her amazing development in manufacturing (Gaston county alone having over one hundred cotton mills) grew from wealthy tourists observing the natural sites, water power and ideal climatic conditions quickly grasped the far superior advantages existing in the Southland for their manufacturing plants over other sections.

In concluding his remarks, Judge Hutchins said:
"These shrewd captains of industry, with keen vision recognized the advantages of North Carolina's miles of paved roads."
"Her sister states, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, and Tennessee are on the threshold of an influx of capital that will make the entire south the El Dorado of the industrial world."

The south must awake to the necessity of good roads—Georgia's shoulder is to the wheel—for Georgia now recognizes that the motorist infuses new life in any territory. He builds homes, he erects factories and manufacturing plants and plants and factories create payrolls—and payrolls bring increased property values, forces development and advanced education."

ASKS HELP ON FREE ROAD DAY

Barbourville Kiwanian Here Today in Interest Demonstration
Next Monday

Earl Mayhew, secretary of the Barbourville Kiwanis Club, was in Middlesboro today for the purpose of interesting Middlesboro people in the big Free Road Day on the Barbourville to Corbin road, near Dushman Springs, to be held next Monday, May 19. He talked with several local business men particularly to C. A. Blackburn, president of the local Kiwanis Club, who will put the matter to the Kiwanis Board of Directors tonight.

Several hundred people are expected to take part in this demonstration. About a mile of roads is to be "rocked". N. Buckner and Charles O'Connor will probably be there, Mr. Mayhew said, as well as interested persons from Pineville, Middlesboro, Corbin, London, Harboursville and outside visitors. A particularly good turnout of farmers is expected. The men break rocks with hammers during the day. At noon the women will serve a big lunch and an interesting program will be given.

Committees on publicity, cats, supervision and entertainment are hard at work in Barbourville this week making detailed plans for a big day next Monday.

Mr. Mayhew said 150 were out last Thursday to work on the Corbin to London road and that if it had not been such a rainy, bad day twice as many would have been there. Corbin and Harboursville both plan almost to close up Monday and come out to work on this road. Pineville is promising a big delegation, Mr. Mayhew said, and he hopes Middlesboro will, too.

Another big "Free Day" will be held near Roundstone, in Rockcastle County, Tuesday of next week.

COAL CONTRACT HERE RENEWED

Fidelity Mines Have Promise of Six Days a Week Work
For Year

Reports that a coal mining company of this vicinity is working six days per week and has contracts which will keep it busy for more than a year is good news to Middlesboro people who have been a little downhearted over the coal situation.

An official of the Fidelity Coal company whose mine is located at McDermott stated today that the firm had recently renewed a contract for twelve months. As the old contract has yet about two months to run, the renewal means that the mines will have full time work for fourteen months. The contract is for a branch of the Southern railway, the official stated.

The Fidelity mines are now running six days a week. One hundred men are employed there.

By Associated Press.
COVINGTON, May 12.—On motion of the defense, the case of Congressman Langley was temporarily reopened when court convened today and Langley was re-called to the stand to read telegrams showing friendly relations with Federal Prohibition Director Sam Collins during their reported break over the issuance of whiskey permits. Collins was also re-called and he said he was not positive the telegrams were received. The case was then closed and arguments of the attorneys were resumed.

District Attorney Smith, concluding the arguments for the government, asked the jury for a maximum sentence for Langley which would be two years imprisonment and $10,000 for each of the two counts.

Attorney W. K. Gray made the last argument for the defense. He insisted that there was no evidence connecting either Lipschutz or Slater, co-defendants with Langley, with the alleged conspiracy, and challenged the government to produce any testimony showing that either of these had ever known Langley until they were brought into court. After District Attorney Smith closed for the government, the case was scheduled to go to the jury.

Woman Says Liquor Belonged to Her

Assuming the blame for a quantity of liquor found on the premises of Ed Parks, Annie Blakely, alias Kizzie McClelland, claimed that the liquor belonged to her and received the customary fine and jail sentence in police court this morning.

City policemen made the raid on Parks' house on Fitzpatrick avenue Sunday, obtaining eighteen "little boys" of moonshine liquor. It was found in Parks' trunk, though the woman claimed she had put it there and that Parks did not know of it. The latter was acquitted. Other men captured in the raid who were fined for drunkenness or disorderly conduct were: A. N. Hubbard, J. W. Cross, George Barnstetter and Eugene McCrory.

WILL CLOSE EAST END WEDNESDAY

Repairs Made on Detour—All
Cumberland Avenue to Be Completed

East Cumberland avenue from Twelfth to Sixteenth streets will be closed Wednesday morning if weather conditions permit in order that repairs may be made on the asphalt which was put down last fall, according to an agreement which Herbert Kidd, superintendent of the Humbard Construction company and V. A. Cline, state engineer, made with G. E. Cooke, commissioner of public safety today.

Places where the paving has become loosened from the concrete base must be thoroughly cleaned before new asphalt is applied and for this reason no vehicles will be allowed to use the street until the work is entirely finished which will be a week or ten days.

Some repairs have already been made on the East End detour, and others will be made to-morrow in order that the road may be entirely passable during the time the four blocks are closed.

A Thought

A wise son heareth his father's instructions; but a scorner heareth not rebuke.—Prov. 13:1.

Many receive advice, only the wise profit by it.—Psalms 119.

"GOOD-BYE, LAMB" HIS FAREWELL

Good-bye, lamb!" that was all.

The boldness had gone out of the lad; all the swagger had vanished. He was limp for all his assumption of unconcern and the days that had been so gay and carefree tasted bitter in his mouth. Ten to twenty years in which to think it over. If he cared for the girl, the "bobbed hair bandit," ten to twenty years of separation in which likely enough she would first learn to despise and next to hate him. He might have earned an honest living. He had the capacity, but not the grit. He could have made a home for her and this was the home to which he had consigned her, Sing Sing or Auburn. "Good-bye, lamb"—and he had led her to the slaughter.

From coast to coast the words of farewell and of failure go. We are told that she never had a chance, that she fell. Her life seemed dull and sordid and she chose to make it fill a column or two in the daily press. Life was drab, and she wanted it scarlet with plenty of drama, of action, of "pep."

She got it, and Heaven knows she paid for it. Before she comes out she will have been forgotten. Before he comes out he will have had time to curse, not his luck, that mood is over, but his folly, his crime against the world—most of all, if he is a man, his crime against her.

Will others profit by the lesson? Will these two, so forlorn now and once so braggart, will they profit? We wish we could be certain.

CAPT. RULE'S RECIPE FOR A LONG LIFE

"Work has never hurt anybody. I don't care how much work a man does, if he gets enough sleep he is all right."

This bit of philosophy was uttered by Capt. William Rule, editor of the Knoxville Journal and Tribune, on the eve of the eighty-fifth anniversary of his birth. The veteran editor who has the distinction of being the oldest active editor in the United States, who has occupied an editorial chair for more than three score years, attributes his longevity and remarkable activity to hard work.

Surely his is an example for the young generation, for the multitude of young men and women whose sole purpose is to finish the day's duties as quickly as possible so that they may seek rest and recreation. It should be a revelation to that army of workers who complain of an existence attended by an eight-hour work day, frequent holidays and long vacations.

Not only has Capt. Rule attended to the multitudinous duties of an editor of a large city daily seven days in the week during regular working hours but has, until recently, been in the habit of working a few hours nightly at his job. Thoroughly in love with his work as a journalist which embraces a keen and ever increasing interest in human affairs throughout the world, his daily tasks are a pleasure instead of a hardship.

Capt. Rule's philosophy on longevity is interesting but by no means new. It has long been an established fact that work does not kill a man; worry, his frequent, but by no means necessary, companion is the insidious foe that gnaws at the vitals of a man, that furrows his brow with premature wrinkles and steals his aspirations, ambition and even his life.

Plenty of hard work, lots of sleep, balanced rations and well regulated recreation and no worry is also Nature's receipt for happiness and a long life.

Adventures of The Twins

By Olive Roberts Barton
NO. 17—JACK THE GIANT KILLER

"What kind of a kite do you fly?" he asked.

The magic automobile with Nancy and Nick and Mister Muggs, the fairy man, sped through Once-Upon-a-Time Land at about a hundred miles an hour.

It passed seven castles and seven moats and came at last to the place where Jack the Giant Killer lived. Jack was out flying a kite, but when he saw the visitors he wound up the string and came over.

He was extra glad to see Nick. "What kind of a kite do you fly?" he asked when he had said "How do you do."

"Mine's a red parrot," said Nick, "but I like this kind better. Next time I'm going to get one like it."

"I'd like to have a box kite," answered Jack. "You know what they are like, don't you?"

"I know a man," put in Mister Muggs, "who has a box kite, and he takes pictures with it. He has a camera fixed to it some way, and when he wants to take the picture of a mountain top or something very high, he sends up the kite and then pulls a string and that works the camera and the picture is taken."

All this time nobody thought of a giant. "Some day when I'm a man," declared Jack, "I am going to have an airplane. I'm going to learn to do nose dives and tail spins, and how to bank, and how to loop the loop, and if there's a war I'll chase the enemy. What are you going to do when you're a man, Nick?"

"Maybe I'll be a soldier of a policeman or a conductor. Or else I'll build houses and bridges."

"I'd like to lead a band and throw up a big stick and catch it," said Jack. "I'd like to wear a tall fur hat with a strip under my chin, and a red jacket all covered with gold braid."

And still nobody thought of so much as mentioning a giant. "When I grow up I'm going to wear a pink-spangled dress and jump out of a balloon," said Nancy, although nobody had asked her what she was going to do. If girls want any notice they have to speak up for themselves.

"I've thought of that, too," said Jack. "But I'll have a little parachute on my airplane and I can jump out and come down whenever I want to."

"We'll have to be going now," said Mister Muggs. "It's a long way back and time is flying."

And then Nick remembered. "Did you really kill any giants?" he asked suddenly.

"Seven," said Jack, as though he were speaking of autos or some thing. "Oh, say, can you play baseball? I wish you could stay."

FABLES ON HEALTH

"Have you seen our baby? Mr. Mann would probably ask of visitors who dropped in for an evening call.

The hour was about 8:30, and Mrs. Mann knew from past experiences what would happen if the baby awakened.

When the company had gone Mrs. Mann let "father" have it with both barrels.

"You've got to stop this show-off parade," she declared. "The child must not acquire bad habits of sleep. It wakes up often enough as it is without any outside help."

Mrs. Mann's rebuke should be every mother's rebuke.

POSTAL BUSINESS BIGGEST IN WORLD

Department Issues Interesting Communication on Work Being Done

Interesting facts on the biggest single business in the world—the United States Postal system—are contained in a communication from the postal department. Patrons are urged to mail early and often; by quicker service—items that mean doing this they will have better and at Service handles 23,000,000,000 articles. Every year the increase in number of articles in the mails is more than a billion. Of the total mail submitted, 12,000,000,000 pieces are letters.

Every year the United States Postals and cents to business men.

Every year the Postal Service, on an average, delivers 112 letters to every man, woman, and child in the United States.

Atlas would have had a tough time indeed lifting the annual load of letters alone that the Postal Service moves. It is estimated to total 133,350 tons.

Every second of the twenty-four hours of every day there are 339 letters dropped into letter boxes; every minute, 23,334, and every hour 1,400,000.

Nearly 44,000 postmen, members of the greatest single business, daily deliver mail to millions of homes and business houses in American cities.

On February 25, 1924, the Post Office Department had more than 351,000 in its employ. Besides the 43,677 letter carriers, there are 62,400 clerks, 44,417 rural carriers, 51,393 postmasters, and 21,316 railway postal clerks.

The 51,393 postmasters run as many offices. There is one post office for every 58 square miles of territory.

The 351,000 full and part time postal employees are paid approximately $441,622,517 annually for their services.

Batting Averages Major League Show Old Favorites Still Lead

By Associated Press.
CHICAGO, May 10.—With more than three weeks of the major league pennant race completed, Harry Heilmann of Detroit, 1923 batting champion of the American league is making a whirlwind race for the 1924 title with the remarkable average of .493.

The slugging ace of the Tigers, whose batting has been an important factor in pulling the Detroiters closer to the Yankees, has smashed out a hit every second time he has faced a pitcher since the start of the season. He has connected safely thirty-four times, making five home runs in addition to nine doubles. In his last six games, including Wednesday, Heilmann bugged an even dozen hits.

Ty Cobb, the Tiger leader, who gave Heilmann such spirited competition a week ago, fell into a slump which carried him down in the list of leaders, the runner-up position going to Ken Williams of the Browns with an average of .423. Joe Harris of the Red Sox is third with .427.

George Sisler, manager of the St. Louis Browns, is challenging the leaders with an average of .352, which places him just outside the select first ten. Babe Ruth is maintaining his lead in belting out the homers with a total of six.

Bill Barrett, White Sox outfielder and his captain Eddie Collins are fighting it out for the stolen base honors, with Barrett leading Eddie 7 to 6. Neither has any close competition.

Other leader batters: Summa, Cleveland, .407; Meusel, New York, .395; Cobb, Detroit, .385; Jamieson, Cleveland, .382; Dugan, New York, .358; Veach, Boston, .358; Simmons, Philadelphia, .358; Sisler, St. Louis, .352; Sheely, Chicago, .349; Judge, Washington, .346; Jacobson, St. Louis, .346; Hooper, Chicago, .334.

Nationals
A damaged thumb, forcing him out of the game, cost Roger Hornsby, the St. Louis star, and 1923 batting champion of the National league, the leadership this week. Zack Wheat, the Brooklyn veteran, moved into the commanding position with an average of .457 attained as a result of connecting with 16 hits in his last seven games.

Hornsby was hitting .426 when he was forced to retire. He sprained his thumb sliding into a base a week ago Thursday at Pittsburgh.

Jacques Fournier of the Dodgers, "Cy" Williams of the Phillies, and "Gabby" Hartnett of the Cubs, are in a triple tie for the home run honors, each having made five. Max Carey of the Pirates, is pulling away from George Grantham of the Cubs for the base steal honors, leading the Chicagoans by three. Carey has stolen eight bases.

Other leading batters: Kelley, New York, .400; Frisch, New York, .375; Grantham, Chicago, .361; Fournier, Brooklyn, .352; Grimes, Chicago, .350; Pinelli, Cincinnati, .338; Harper, Cincinnati, .333; Bohne, Cincinnati, .328; Johnston, Brooklyn, .325; Heathcote, Chicago, .316; Blades, St. Louis, .316.

American Association
Thirty-five hits in 20 games has given Bunny Irie, Kansas City veteran, an average of .427 for the batting leadership of the American Association.

socialion. Tyson of Louisville is second with .402, while Scott of Kansas City and Maguire of Toledo are third with .384.

Reb Russell of Columbus and Kirke of Minneapolis, share home run honors, with five each. Neun of St. Paul is setting the pace for the base stealers with ten.

Other leading batters for fifteen or more games: Lopez, Columbus, .380; Christenbury, Indianapolis, .379; Betts, Louisville, .378; Davis, Columbus, .370; Matthews, Milwaukee, .370; Russell, Columbus, .364.

Southerners
A batting rampage which Taylor of Memphis sixteen hits in four games placed him in the lead of the Southern Association, with an average of .424. Smith of Atlanta, the leader a week ago, dropped into second place with .388. Morrison of Memphis is third with .382.

Anderson of Chattanooga is off in front in the scramble for home run honors with a string of four, while Marriott of Mobile is showing his heels to the base stealers with eight.

Other leading batters: Niehaus, Chattanooga, .375; Lapan, Little Rock, .373; Carlisle, Memphis, .370; De Vomer, Mobile, .363; Gaznel, Birmingham, .360; Hawks, Nashville, .352; Barker, Little Rock, .351.

TREATS PASSENGERS

RUSH REPAIRS ON BUTTERCUP PLANT

Working Day and Night to Have Temporary Quarters in Few Days

Repairs on the Buttercup Ice Cream building which was damaged by fire Wednesday night are being rushed, the carpenters working day and night in constructing a temporary cover over the building which is the property of the Kentucky Utilities company.

Definite estimate as to the extent of the damage to the machinery and equipment has not been made this afternoon, though a factory representative is here now and expects to make a thorough inspection of the machinery. It is expected that the matter of adjusting the claim with the insurance company will be made early next week.

The heat from the burning building did not penetrate to the refrigeration room in which was stored a large quantity of ice cream. The cream was in good condition when the debris was cleared away and the storage vault opened.

THE GRACE NETTLETON HOME

Harrogate, Tenn.
May 6, 1924.

Mr. William Walbrecht, Middlesboro, Ky.
Dear Sir:

Enclosed find receipt for April remittance. This is the eleventh remittance we have received of this regular allowance. We have been able to keep ahead of our bank account and to meet all bills promptly. We have just balanced our books for the year and have a balance of $13.00. You can see where we would be without the Community Chest allowance. We therefore feel very grateful to the friends in Middlesboro who included the Home in their welfare plans.

We have had forty-eight in the family all winter and, for two months, we had forty-nine. Of this number, 19 were from Bell county. The expense, including necessary sanitary repairs is something over $7,500 for the year. The budget for the coming year should be $10,000 because outside painting and other repairs are imperative to protect the property.

We have given this detailed report, believing you would want some account of our use of the funds invested in the Home.

Respectfully yours
Elizabeth Jackson, Supt.

By Archibald Macleish
Under an elm tree where the river reaches
They watched the evening deepen in the sky,
They watched the westward clouds go towering by
Through lakes of blue toward those shining beaches.
Those far enchanted strands where blowing tides
Break into light along the shallow air.
They watched how like a tall ship's lantern there
Over that stormy surf the faint star rides.

Ship of a dream, he thought—O dreamed-of shore
Beyond all oceans and all earthly seas!
Now would they never call him any more;
Now would they never hurt him with unwise.
She was that ship, that sea, that siren land,
And she was here, her hand shut in his hand.

TRAVELING OVER EASTERN DIXIE

Final Touches in Rockcastle by May 20—Road Will Then Be at Best

By Associated Press

FRANKFORT, May 12—Reports indicate that travelers are beginning to come over the Eastern Dixie from the South, the weekly detour and road conditions bulletin released by the Department of State Roads and Highways stated today.

It seems that the final touches to repair work south of the Madison-Rockcastle county line will not be completed before May 20. Travelers will be coming through in the meantime but the road will not be at its best until that date.

The road through Decoursey, Kentucky, and Demosville is still closed while repairs are being made south of Kenton. Southbound traffic from Cincinnati should cross the river at Newport, then go by way of Alexandria, and Grant's Lick to Butler. At Butler turn to right to avoid construction south of town, and go to the L.L. road, then turn left and go three miles to Greenwood and on to Fal-mouth, then go through Cynthia and Paris to Lexington. Excepting a few rough places this road is in good condition to Lexington.

The three L.L. road south of Covington between Independence and the Pendleton county line is under construction. There are several detours and a difficult ford to cross. For safe and certain going take the Alexandria route just described.

The Dixie Highway south of Covington is under construction. Local traffic through Florence and Williams-town should detour at Walton and Dry Ridge.

From Lexington to Rockcastle county line there are two rough stretches of three miles each. (See Rockcastle county.)

ROCKCASTLE COUNTY—From the Madison county line to Mt. Vernon is rough but repairs are being made. Most of traffic going via Nicholasville, Camp Dick Robinson, Lancaster, Crab Orchard, and Mt. Vernon to avoid repair work. In traveling from Mt. Vernon to Livingston, keep the main road which is in good condition, excepting the new earth grade one mile north of Livingston; this at present is in fair condition, and the traffic is going through with but little difficulty. From Livingston to Rockcastle the River the gravel surface is in fair condition.

LAUREL COUNTY—The earth grade just south of Rockcastle River is in good condition at present. Traffic is going through with ease in dry weather. The waterbound macadam section joining this on the south is in excellent condition.

WHITLEY COUNTY—Macadam

road from Corbin to Williamsburg is in excellent condition. From Williamsburg to Jellico, the graded earth road is passable in dry weather; traffic going through with difficulty. Travelers bound for Tennessee and beyond should take "Boone Way" at Corbin.

KNOX COUNTY—Tennessee traffic should go by way of Barbourville and Pineville to Cumberland Gap. Grade and drain construction in progress between Corbin and Barbourville. Detour via Woodbine and Dishman Springs now possible, is expected to be in good condition by May 1. Automobiles are going through with their own power. Road through Barbourville, Pineville and Middlesboro to Cumberland Gap in good to excellent condition. Watch for the "Invisible Track Road" in Pineville; you will know it by the four longitudinal ruts in the surface.

This country has 19 national parks with a total area of 11,372 square miles.

The word "family" as used in the census, means a group of persons, rather related by blood or not, who live together as one household.
